

Nitta Casings Mission Statement

As the first company in the world to develop, manufacture and market edible collagen sausage casings, Nitta Casings is committed to being the leading provider of the highest quality products and value added services to our customers.

In order to achieve our mission we will:

Based on customer requirements, enhance customer satisfaction by strict adherence to our quality policy and our ISO 9001: 2000 certification.

Invest in our employees, our facilities and communities by providing a safe work place, training and compliance with environmental, health and safety regulations.

Create an environment where mutual respect and teamwork is fostered.

Continuously improve our product, processes and services through investment in manufacturing, research and development initiatives.

Provide strategic and ethical management of the business.
